Salary Survey Asks Blanket Increase For DC Employees

JITNEY PROPOSAL PRESENTED TO CITY

The question of which transportation service is best for Daly City may hinge on whether Broadmoor is included in the proposed routes, it developed Monday night at the city council meeting.

The tentative jitney line excludes Broadmoor while the Burt Perkins bus line proposal is to concentrate wholly on Broadmoor and connect with the Peninsula bus line in Westlake.

Burt Perkins bus line was represented by the attorney for the Peninsula Lines, A. R. Lynn, who was hindered in this new capacity because of a lack of definite information.

First to address the council was Attorney Joseph Murray, representing 15 jitney operators who have not yet incorporated.

The tentative jitney line, as presented by the attorney, would run from the top of the hill to Westlake but would exclude Broadmoor and Colma.

Murray stressed the point that the jitneys will give superior service because very few passengers are needed to make a profit.

"The low overhead guarantees us a profit even with a minimum of passengers," Murray explained.

Service, Would Increase

The attorney added, however, that as the number of persons using the jitneys increased, the service would increase, both in route expansion and number of buses.

When asked the fee, Murray replied that it would probably be 20 cents.

A performance bond for at least six months and longer if the city wanted it, was promised by the lawyer.

He said that four buses would operate at one time during the low peak. Jitneys would operate from 6 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. every day.

"Sunday is a pain in the neck to all transportation companies, however, we will probably cut the number of vehicles in half on that day," Murray explained.

School Children

When asked how jitneys could provide for school children, the lawyer said that the children would need transportation before the commuter rush.

"The jitneys can complete the entire route in 22 minutes, thereby transporting the children before the peak hour which falls after 5 p.m. in Daly City," Murray

A blanket salary increase is in view for city employees here if the council approves the recommendation of the State Personnel Board Pay Survey report, just received by council members.

The report advises pay increases amounting to a five per cent average across the board. Only two positions, those of the children's librarian and equipment serviceman, were recommended to receive salary cuts.

Added expenditure for civil service employees under survey recommendations would amount to approximately $20,000 per year. This added to the approximate $400,000 paid out on a yearly basis to classified employees at the present time would bring the total to $420,000.

The increased amount of $20,000 takes into account the new positions which the report advises be put on a civil service basis.

City Manager Howard Stites said today that he will recommend

Teamster Leads Cop On Merry Chase

A 37-year-old teamster, who gave Police Officer Al Conci a merry chase through Daly City streets Saturday, pleaded guilty to four charges in Municipal court yesterday.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci handed down the following sentence to Thomas Bell, 37, of 5316 Mission street: drunk driving, 60 days in the county jail suspended if $300 fine is paid; reckless driving, 10 days suspended if $100 fine is paid; failure to heed a police siren, 5 days suspended if $10 fine is paid; and driving without an operator's license, 5 days suspended if $10 fine is paid.

Conci started after Bell when he saw the teamster allegedly speeding down Tallwood drive near Hillside. Bell ignored the officer's signal to pull over and increased his speed.

Twice he tried to force the police car off the road, according to Conci.

Finally, after narrowly avoiding a collision at Gambetta street, Bell found himself marooned on a dead end street. He attempted a U-turn, but Conci managed to force Bell's car to the side of the road.

Conci reported that upon arrest, Bell was extremely belligerent.

Vaccine Now Set For May 9 Start

Elimination of one of the three Salk vaccine shots for 1364 first and second grade children means that the vaccine will be administered beginning May 9 instead of May 2 as previously planned, according to Mrs. Helen Delafield, Jefferson elementary school health coordinator.

The new plan is to give the first shot on May 9, 11 and 13 and the second shot on June 6, 8 and 10. The three centers will be Garden Village, Colma and Woodrow Wilson schools. Children from other public and parochial schools will be vaccinated at one of the above centers, depending upon which is the most convenient.

FOUR JEFF HIGH STUDENTS AT AWARDS CONTEST

Four Jefferson High School students participated in the Bank of America achievement awards program zone competition in Redwood City yesterday.

They were: Mary Ellen Waltz fine arts; Anne Ballard, science and mathematics; Frances Evans, liberal arts; and Gloria Demattei, vocational arts.

They were among 30 graduating senior students from the county's secondary schools participating in the day-long selections in Sequoia High school library. Judgments are made on basis of citizenship, scholarship and potential for future success.

James Mason, recreation director, told THE RECORD today that he has not resigned his position, as rumored earlier this week.

Mason said there had been a "misunderstanding" between himself and City Manager Howard Stites over personnel and equipment needs for the department but that the matter had been settled.

"We cleared the whole thing up," Mason stated.

The recreation director explained that, during a budget discussion Tuesday, he had thought Stites wanted to eliminate purchase of playground equipment by the department and reduce personnel at the parks.

"The whole program would have disintegrated if we couldn't purchase equipment or staff the parks," Mason declared.

"I was much concerned over how Stites' recommendations

Chief Says Two Spots Under Observation Here

Local police and district attorney's office were ready today to move in on two alleged bookmaking establishments, one a Mission street place of business and the other a Westlake apartment, according to Chief Roland Petrocchi.

District attorney's office was called in last Friday by Petrocchi after a metropolitan newspaper intimated the bookie business was running "wide open" in Daly City.

This rumor, according to Petrocchi, evidently tipped off bookmakers operating in a room above a tavern at 6053 Mission street. Lieut. Roy Beecher, Inspector Dave Johnstone, Officer Bruno Conci and DA inspector A. L. Lamport closed in on the horse betting parlor Friday only to find the occupant had fled.

Says Sizeable Operation

Lamport indicated the bookie operation was a sizeable one, probably handling $20,000 a day upwards in bets.

The raid took place after police checked with the telephone company and learned the line was continuously busy.

Investigators found a large number of betting slips in a garage disposal unit.

Norbert Anderson, proprietor of the tavern, said a man who gave him the name as Charles Adams rented the room on February 18. Anderson said, however, that he had seen two other men there several evenings.

According to Anderson, Adams left hurriedly Thursday night.

The bookie was described as middle-aged, about six feet tall with heavy build and was said to be a natty dresser.

He told Anderson he was a salesman.

"Checking Out" Spots

Meanwhile, Petrocchi declared local police were "checking out" a couple of other places, the Mission shop and the Westlake apartment. He said although they might not have enough evidence for conviction on a bookmaking charge, they could yank the telephones on suspicion of illegal use of the lines, under a federal communications provision.

Petrocchi maintained the bookie activity was something that had just started. "We can't take any action until we get the tips," he said. Statement in the metropolitan paper that bookie activity paralleled widespread gambling in the "old days" was declared "ridiculous" by the chief.

"Some Activity"

"It'll cool off again in about a month," Petrocchi speculated.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson, who said he was called in by the chief to give professional assistance on the bookie problem, revealed that "There is some activity above what would normally be found in a city this size."

Asked how long local police had been alerted to the problem, and when his assistance was asked

Bernice Lewis Gets Five Years To Life On Dope Sale Count

Mrs. Bernice Lewis, 54, an admitted narcotics addict for 30 years, was sentenced Monday to from five years to life in state prison for selling heroin to a minor.

Mrs. Lewis earlier had entered a plea of guilty to the sale in a Daly City doughnut shop.

Sentence was pronounced by San Mateo County Superior Judge Louis B. Demattei.

Mrs. Lewis was arrested last January 26 in a roundup of narcotics peddlers in north San Mateo county and San Francisco. Authorities said that the 11 persons arrested peddled narcotics to juveniles in Daly City and the outer Mission district.

The woman somehow provided for a $40-a-day narcotics habit on her salary of $44 a week as a waitress in the doughnut shop, according to police.

Her record shows a total of 31 arrests since 1925, mostly on prostitution and narcotics charges.

POLICE COMMISSION SURPRISED BUT BACKS OUSTER BY COUNCIL

Police commissioners Ed Whitney and Tony Ricci expressed "surprise" Tuesday at the council's action last week in abolishing their commission but said that, "We feel it was a very logical move in view of the adoption of city manager government."

Speaking for the commission at their regular meeting, Chairman Whitney said, "We felt shocked because in our minds we've done an exceptional job for the police department in the past 2½ years."

"However, we endorse the council's move wholeheartedly and will make ourselves available to the city in any way in the future," the commission chairman continued.

"We don't want to throw away knowledge that we've gained through our work with the department."

Ricci declared Whitney's comments applied for him too.

Third commissioner, Victor Baher, was not present.

Whitney added that, "We're in complete accord with city manager form of government and wish Mr. Stites every success."

The council is expected to formally withdraw ordinance creating fire and police commissions Monday night.

The action will not take effect until 30 days thereafter. Police commission will hold one more meeting before the council action takes effect.

Ask Blanket Salary Increase For City Employees

 salary increases to the council and that he expects to have a total increase figure ready for the council Monday night.

Departments have already submitted preliminary budgets, which, if the raises go through, will have to be revised.

Mayor Joseph J. Verducci told THE RECORD today that the council will act on the recommendation of three groups: the state, employees and Stites.

"Increase Imminent"
 "I won't say we'll go along with the salary survey, but I feel personally that some increase is imminent," Verducci added.

The State board made their recommendations on the basis of two sources: 1. prevailing salaries and wages in private industry for jobs in which there is a government counterpart, and 2. salaries paid other governmental jurisdictions.

The local survey was made in conjunction with similar surveys for South San Francisco, San Bruno and Millbrae. Stites, who met Wednesday with city managers from South City and San Bruno, said that they, too, will recommend raises to their respective councils.

Discontinue Overtime
 The board also recommended that Daly City discontinue paying time and one-half for overtime, but advised that overtime be compensated by allowing equivalent time off.

Daly City is one of three cities of 76 cities in the 25,000 or under population group which pay time and one-half for overtime, according to the report.

Establishment of new classifications and elimination of others also was recommended in the survey.

Following is a list of advised changes in classification and in salary range:

Tentative jitney route presented by Murray is as follows: Start at

The Broadmoor Property Owners association will discuss possible bus routes in Broadmoor with Burt Perkins Saturday afternoon. Perkins is the owner of the bus line which tentatively is proposed to run in the Broadmoor area. The meeting will be held at the home of President Maryann Read at 828 Beechwood drive.

Sickles and Mission, south on Mission to Knowles, west on Knowles and Alemany to Sheffield, turn at Sheffield and continue west on North Mayfair to Cliffside, U-turn at Cliffside to South Mayfair, east on South Mayfair to Sheffield, turn at Sheffield and continue east on Alemany to Junipero Serra, south on Junipero Serra to School, east on School to Station, south on Station to Market, east on Market to Mission, and north on Mission to Sickles.

Objections to the above route were raised by Councilman Ed Dennis who stated that two intersections, Knowles and Mission and Alemany and Sheffield, were two of the most dangerous in the city.

Competition Okay
 In answer to a question from Mayor Joseph J. Verducci, Murray said that jitney owners would not object to operating with competition as they already do so in San Francisco.

Next to present plans was Lynn for Peninsula lines.

He presented a proposal which would include service from both the bus lines, the Burt Perkins line covering Broadmoor and the Peninsula lines covering the remainder of the area.

"If Perkins doesn't make good, we'll (Peninsula buses) stand behind our promise to extend the route," Lynn stated.

The representative claimed that jitneys would not be able to supply adequate service for the area.

"Not Legitimate"

"Besides, if there is no incorporation as yet, the jitney proposal is not legitimate," Lynn charged.

He said that the two bus services could interchange transfers within Daly City, thereby giving the same service now available on the Muni 56 line. The fare of 30 cents will probably be lowered to 20 cents if the two private bus companies are allowed to operate, Lynn said.

Lynn told the council that he had never heard of a performance bond in transportation before.

"The Public Utilities commission approval is your guarantee that we'll operate," Lynn explained.

The proposed route for the Peninsula lines is: South San Francisco to Holy Cross cemetery, Mission to Knowles and down Alemany to Westlake.

Subsidy Trouble
 "This subsidy is throwing everyone off base," Lynn said in reference to the Doelger subsidy of the Muni railway.

"But the 76 is out of the picture now, and the 56 will go as soon as we go in," he claimed.

The buses would operate at not greater than half-hour intervals during the day, and during peak hours, 6:30 to 8 a.m. and 4 to 6:30 p.m., would run not more than every 20 minutes, according to Lynn.

The representative said that the bus lines would not object to jitney operation in the city if Knowles is excluded from the jitney line.

"They won't get an okay on jitneys outside of the city, though," he claimed.

Perkins has been asked by the council to appear before them next Monday at the meeting to present more definite information on his line's proposals.

KILLED IN ACCIDENTS

A third booster shot has been recommended by Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of the vaccine, however, it is not yet clear who will pay for the third shot. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, subject to a great deal of criticism by county health officials, has said that it will not pay for the third shot as originally planned.

SLUFFING OFF A REAL PROBLEM?

The county health and welfare department has issued a statement that the area around Camp Mattrup Girl Scout camp in Colma is a plague infection site and should be off limits for use by Scouts of Daly City and Colma.

Dr. H. D. Choje, director of the health department, stated in a letter to the Girl Scout organization, that "plague infection has been found in field mice and other ectoparasites not too far away from Camp Mattrup. With this infection and domestic rats in the neighborhood of the hog farms, a definite potential health hazard exists." Choje continued that, "It was not necessary to condemn the campsite, as I don't believe any organization or individual parent would deliberately expose children to such potential hazard."

He continued that, "You (Girl Scouts) may wonder why this department did not take immediate steps to clear out the rat population, but, surprisingly, we had no authority."

"We are not the health department for the Town of Colma, where the hog farms and plague site are located."

"Until such time as the Colma site is proven to be free of plague infection, this department could not realistically approve that site for use."

The Camp Mattrup site has proved ideal for Girl Scout and Brownie organizations' one-day outings.

Declaring Mattrup a health hazard virtually isolates the Scouts as far as a camp is concerned, unless they travel to the Sneath Lane camp outside San Bruno.

If such a plague situation exists, the county health department is treating the problem with alarming under-emphasis.

If such an infectious condition is present are not the Colma school and the adjacent residential area in Daly City endangered by this health problem?

Choje says an eradication program, supervised by the state health department, was taken but that it was "practically impossible to eradicate the field mice, and even more difficult to get rid of the ectoparasite that remained in the rat burrow."

If this plague infection still exists, we do not believe it should be passed off with a departmental edict. It should be cleaned up.

A simple investigation should show whether there is still plague infection at Mattrup.

If the area is not dangerous, the county health department should withdraw its "off-limits" recommendation before the county board of supervisors so that Scouts can enjoy the recreational facility.

In either case some positive action is in order.

Safety News

"Luck runs out, but safety is good for life," stated Inspector H. Sundermann in advising Daly City bicyclists in connection with the bicycle safety program being sponsored locally this month by the Daly City Police Department and the National Safety Council.

The phrase, "Safety is good for life," has a double meaning, he said. First, safety never becomes useless or obsolete, it lasts a lifetime. And second, practicing safety can mean the difference between life and death to bicyclists.

National Safety Council statistics for 1953, he said, show that 360 bicyclists died under the age of 15 were killed in motor vehicle accidents. About 26,000 bicyclists in the same age group were injured. Of these killed, half were riding in cities, and half in rural areas.

"It doesn't seem possible to over-emphasize the serious threat to life and limb that bicycle riding can be to those who are reckless or careless," Inspector Sundermann added.

He listed eight rules for safe riding. They are:

1. Ride with traffic, and keep to the far right.
2. Do not weave or stunt. Ride in a straight line.
3. When with friends, ride in single file.
4. Put books and packages in a carrier attached to the bicycle, and never carry passengers on your bike.
5. In traffic, obey all applicable signs, signals, and traffic laws.
6. Never hitch on to a passing truck, street car, automobile or any other vehicle.
7. If you must ride at night, have a good light and rear reflector.
8. Keep your bicycle in good condition.

Burlingame Mayor Dies

Mayor H. Kent Atwater of Burlingame died early Wednesday morning at his home. The 71-year-old leader had been ill for some time. Only Monday night civic leaders paid Atwater tribute as a "leader of vision and integrity." Former Councilman L. B. Morgan took over as mayor of Burlingame at that time.

Draw Poker Ban

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson has sent a letter to State Senator Harry Parkman urging him to support the assembly bill which would outlaw commercial draw poker in California.

The bill has passed the state assembly and is to be heard by Parkman's governmental efficiency committee.

'55 FIESTA THEME

"Gazing into the Crystal Ball" is the theme of the twenty-first annual San Mateo county fair and floral fiesta, it was announced this week by William M. Wilson, fiesta manager. Fiesta dates are August 5 through 13.

The examining board was made up of Harry Jenks, consulting engineer, Howard Stites, city manager, Don Wilson of the county engineering department, and sanitation district directors Edward Dennis, Thomas Callan Sr. and Sanford Vickers, chairman.

Vital Role In Child's Life Merits Public School Week

A child spends most of his waking day at school—evidence that schools are an important factor in the development of the individual.

Next week parents all over California will have an opportunity to observe schools in action.

Here in Daly City it is hoped by school administrators that parents and other interested persons will visit the Jefferson High School and elementary school during Public Schools Week so that there may be created a better understanding of the school's accomplishments and its problems.

All schools in the city have planned open houses and displays in honor of the 36th observance of Public Schools Week.

This year's observance of the special week is particularly important to every member of the community because education for all has become a vital problem due to the tremendous population growth since World War II.

New Record Monthly
Every month a new enrollment record is set, according to school officials. Jefferson elementary schools are now offering a full school day for every child. This is unique in the day of half-day schedules.

At the present time, over 4500 children are attending eleven elementary schools in grades ranging from kindergarten through eighth. To glance back a few short years ago as 1950 reveals an enrollment of only 2100 children, less than half the current number, and at that time many of these children were attending double sessions, according to Elementary Superintendent H. Z. Weibel.

Only last year Jefferson elementary school personnel were hindered by the fact that they were forced to keep a total of 1110 pupils in grades three to eight on the double session program.

High School Hit
The problem of overcrowding is not unique to the elementary schools. High schools are just now beginning to feel that influx of the so-called "war babies."

By next year a total of 600 freshmen are expected to reach high school age, while by 1960, the number is expected to rise to 1000 freshmen students, according to District Superintendent Stanford Hannan.

The high school, like the elementary district, will meet the challenge with the new Westmoor high school, which is expected to open this coming fall.

A chance to discuss the problem of overcrowding and other facets of education with school personnel is offered everyone next week. Also on the agenda will be actual demonstrations of teaching techniques.

Schedules Available
On the elementary level, visitors are invited to observe children being instructed in basic subjects. Exact schedules of teaching demonstrations, which will be held during the school day, are now available at all local schools.

On Monday evening from 7:30 to 9 p.m. the following schools will hold open house: Benjamin Franklin school, Stewart and Maddux; Crocker school, 649 Bellevue avenue; General Pershing school, 631 Hanover street; and Woodrow Wilson school, 43 Miriam street.

Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9 p.m. will find open houses at the following: Colma school, Market and Hillside; Eighty-Seventh street school, 87th street; Jefferson school, 14 Alemany street; Garden Village school, End Garden Lane; Olympia school, Northgate and Westmont; and Westlake school, Fieldcrest and Lake Vista.

Friday At Jeff
Jefferson Union High school will observe Public Schools Week on Friday starting at 7:30 p.m. All classrooms will be open from 7:30 until 9 p.m. and parents and other visitors may visit with teachers in their respective rooms during this time.

Members of the Pep club and sergeant-at-arms staff will be on hand to direct visitors to the rooms they wish to see.

Throughout the evening demonstrations of physical education activities will be given in the gym. Girls will be playing volleyball and badminton, and boys will be playing games as well as boxing and using the trampoline.

From 8 until 9 o'clock, parents may hear the chorus and see skits by the dramatics department in the Little Theater. Tours of the new dressing rooms will also be taken from this department.

At the conclusion of the classroom visiting at 9 p.m., refreshments will be served in the new cafeteria.

Exhibits On View
Throughout Public Schools Week, exhibits may be seen in the windows of merchants in the Daly City area. Electricity in industry and school will be shown in the window in McGraw's Drugstore, while an exhibit of woodshop and art material products may be seen at Donohue's DeSoto-Plymouth agency. Butterfly and insect collections from the Biology department are at the Westlake Floral Shop, while nearby at the Crown Drug Store are pictures and programs of Jefferson's recent musical events.

Other exhibits that may be seen are a Shakespearean theater at the Markovich Insurance company, stage set and lighting at Spruce Reitz, geometric figures at Gager Insurance company, commercial department materials at the PG&E, and mechanical drawing plates and floor and plot plans at the Westlake Beauty salon.

In order to show the pathway of history from early times to the present, Shirley Hale and Dave Ford of the World History class have designed an exhibit of models representing the flow of history and have placed it in the Westlake Camera shop.

"Mrs. Consumer and how she spends her money" is the theme of the Home Economics exhibit at Lissauer Furniture Store. The physical education department offerings are also pictured here.

"Spanish, the language of the Americas," is depicted in the Tromborg Plumbing shop.

DON'T FORGET; ONE HOUR AHEAD SUNDAY

Daylight Savings Time descends on the area again this weekend.

Residents who awake Sunday morning will discover that it's "later than you think"—one hour later to be exact.

In order to prolong evening hours of sunlight, everyone will turn their clocks ahead one hour Sunday.

PERSONALITY SKETCH

Quiet in the studio! Ready... one! As the orders are relayed to the cameraman another KQED program is on the air! The man behind the show and our television personality for this week is Gerald Marens, Production Director of KQED, who lives with his family in Stonetown.

From planning and directing shows to collecting and painting props... all these tasks are part of the position held by Marens. As with all the members of KQED's versatile staff, which numbers twelve in contrast to an average television station which employs approximately 100 people, the production director must be a "Jack-of-all Trades" to do all the jobs that are required to produce KQED's programs.

Marens is production director for the astonishing total of seven live productions now seen over Channel 9, and in addition handles a number of film programs that feature commentaries by local guests experts. The most recent program on which he is working is the first "live" concert series ever performed on local or West Coast television, which will be launched over Channel 9 with the debut of the Little Symphony on Friday, April 29, at 7 p.m.

A Sideline
Another sideline of his job is that which might be referred to as a "TV Scout." Ever on the lookout for new programs and ideas, Marens views local amateur productions, puppet shows, and other similar projects as well as studying the many program ideas submitted to him with the possibility that one might be a production for the community television station.

He came to KQED last fall from Station WEWS, CBS-TV affiliate in Cleveland, Ohio. A graduate of the Pasadena Playhouse, he received his B. A. from the University of Washington and his M. A. from Western Reserve university.

He lives with his wife, Dot, and two small children, Michael and Laura at 430 Winston drive.

The Salk Vaccine
TELEVISION, A MAGIC CARPET... A momentous announcement was made last week... the announcement that the Salk polio vaccine was safe and effective. It was truly a great moment in our lifetime, but what was almost as impressive was that we, through the medium of our television sets, were present while history was being made.

URGENT ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL BOARD MEETING WEDNESDAY
Citizens of Jefferson Elementary School district have been extended an invitation to attend Wednesday's meeting of the board of trustees, to be held at General Pershing school, starting at 8 p.m.

While all board meetings are open to the public, citizens are especially urged to attend this session, which will be held during observance of Public Schools Week.

Holding the meeting at General Pershing is part of the board's program to rotate each meeting at a different district school.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

Easter week gave some Broadmoor families a fine chance to take trips and to have visitors, and to plan something special for the family over Easter. Newly elected Hillside PTA president, Addie Mattison had her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hurdley, visiting from Redlands and admiring the building going on at Addie and Chet's new Sweetwood home—right next door, no less! Heard tell, too, that the newest member of the Mattison family is a red and white Ford Ranch Wagon. Down on Stewart avenue, Helga Giesecke and daughter Ingrid took off for Los Angeles during vacation week, joining husband Ted who had gone there on a business trip. Allen Anthony took time off from studies at UC to be home with his family on Gilman for Easter. Nimitz drive's Roslyn Navarro had her father visiting her from Cupertino, and young Michael McCarthy forsook Sweetwood for Mt. View, where he spent his vacation with his grandmother, Jack and Eileen Murphy said goodbye to books and classrooms for three days at Carmel, heavenly weather having been thoughtfully arranged for by the Monterey peninsula weather man! Wonder if they drove in that new Country Sedan?

Biggest excursion of all was the Arejula family's departure from Wildwood for Tijuana, Mexico, complete with stopover in Los Angeles, where they went to several of the well-known TV programs. Greg and Amparo both found them even better and more fun than when viewed at home. Daughters Irene and Marie Elena are the envy of the Younger Set—they met Davy Crockett in person! Davy, who is Fess Parker when he is not wearing his coonskin hat, obliged with an autograph, as did Gary Crosby. Quite a vacation!

One of the busiest and happiest families these days is the Richard Angotti household. Dick and Jimena now have the best of all heart-warmers, the First Baby! Miss Ann Teresa has brought her 7 lbs. 13 oz. of charm to their Sweetwood home, and has had her first visitors already! Dick's father, Frank P. Angotti, is here from Kansas City, Mo., and was the godfather at the baby's christening last Sunday at Holy Angels church. Also visiting are Ann Theresa's aunts from Long Beach, Mrs. Carmen Elena Bonner and her daughter, Blanche. Mrs. Bonner acted as proxy godmother for Mrs. Ana Cordovez, Jimena's mother, who is currently visiting in Madrid, Spain.

Birthdays are coming into their own again, now that April is well on its way, and two of the better-known King's Marketeers, LeRoy Krueger and Mark Swoverland, had a joint celebration at the Swoverlands' 87th street home, complete with birthday cake.

Mrs. Irene Chessman had a birthday recently, too, and her neighbors on Sweetwood, Evelyn Long, Eleanor Raymond, Barbara Harvey and Dorothy McKinley, planned to give her a surprise party. The surprise worked out in reverse, as Irene went to St. Helena before her friends could put their plan into effect! 87th street's Mary Hess came in for her share of happy wishes also, with a family party highlighting her birthday.

Nearly everyone has had an attack of spring cleaning, but Berta Macklin on Village Lane has an additional bit to do. Seems the roster of new registrations for the Village Play school is gathering dust, which must be blown off now and then! Some of you mothers with pre-schoolers could make that roster nice and shiny with some new names, and give yourselves some happy mornings going to school with your young ones to boot!

Sorry to report that some of our Villagers weren't feeling quite as well as they might over Easter. The George Irvine family entertained the flu for a while, and Harp Stettler has been pretty sick. Martin Rist is home from the hospital, but is still not quite himself. The younger set had its share of troubles, too, with measles bothering Jimmy Helmer and Kathy West; chicken pox doing likewise with Cindy Muncie and Ralph Sturla unhappy with an ear infection. Dickie Hale had a bad day or two, and Sharon Cook has been home ill for too long. Here's hoping all of them will be out and about soon.

We'd like to welcome Richard and Jean Wynkoop to Stonyford drive, along with daughters Karen, 7, and Kathy, almost 2. The Wynkoops didn't have far to travel when they changed homes, being native San Franciscans!

The Easter Bunny substituted for the story, and brought an Easter morning present of Bradley John Cloonan to parents Louise and Bill. Brothers Wayne and Marty feel they had a very Special Day, with 7 lbs. 5½ oz. of new brother to brag about!

That the June bride season is in the offing was born out by Shirley Gallant's having a bridal shower at her Washington street home for Eleanor Keohane. Present to enjoy the happiness of the bride-to-be were Grace Williamson, Shirley Sisson, Grace Williams, Marvia Beasley and Phyllis Firpo.

The Yates house on Midway has been one busy place lately! First came daughter Vincenta's 7th birthday party, with an Easter egg hunt for special fun. Thirteen of Vincenta's classmates from Mrs. Travis' 1st grade came to share the birthday cake. Mother Bea then had a Stanley party for her friends, with Vi Murphy, Meredith Orloff, Hilda Stettler, Agnes Rizzardo, Roberta Taylor, Rosemary Lamentia and Bea's mother, Mrs. Lintini, as guests.

Recipe for danger: 1 spray gun full of DDT and 4 curious children. Seems that a spray gun of liquid attracted the interest of Johnny Buchanan and Julie, Jimmy and Ricky Zilker in the Nimitz-Manila area last week, and they began spraying each other, not knowing what was in the gun was DDT, and that it was not something to play with. All four had to go through the disagreeable process of having their stomachs pumped, and are none the worse for their experience. They might have been, though, and so may other children. Now that the gardening season is here to stay for quite a while, all of us must be sure to keep such poisons well out of reach of youngsters who don't know how deadly they are, only finding them something to eat or play with.

Stella Magoon has had her sister, Mrs. Jessie Morphew, visiting her from Mason City, Iowa, who must like California, as this is her seventh trip out here since 1950! She also has two brothers in San Francisco, and will be leaving 87th street soon to spend two months with her son in Los Angeles, and to welcome a new grandchild in June—the main reason for this trip!

Down on Ellis, Betty Hyndman gave a Continental party, with Pat Stockslager, Helen Kolb, Ruth Childers, Iris Latreille, Rita del Buono, Dorothy Zanone, June Klepstock and Gloria Cauchi as her guests. Mrs. McDonald gave the demonstrations of the Continental line of household appliances.

Gilman drive's Helen Whitehouse is one tired grandma, but she says it was worth it! She had the Harold Johnsons, her daughter and son-in-law, up from Long Beach for a 10 day visit, to say nothing of the grandchildren, David, 5, Cynthia, 3, and Ronald, 2, really kept Helen on the go, particularly when the Johnsons flew to Seattle for a two day visit and left grandma in charge of the tribe!

The Hilton corner of Maddux and 87th was a busy place recently!

Belated wishes to MRS. EVELYN COLEMAN of 37 Le Long street who celebrated her birthday April 12.

Another young man who celebrated his birthday April 9 was TERRY PICARDO of 185 W. Moltke. DC Couple Stranded for Nine Hours in Summit Blizzard

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Vireno of 20 Flournoy street here were stranded for nine hours Sunday on Donner summit when a sudden blizzard struck the area between the summit and Emigrant Pass. Approximately 400 vehicles were stranded on the highway.

Mrs. Vireno told THE RECORD today that she had always wanted to see snow fall, but had never expected a blizzard.

The local couple had gone to Reno for the weekend with their son and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vireno.

Upon their return Sunday snow started to fall and they put chains on their son's car before starting up the summit. At 3 p.m. they were forced to a standstill along with the 400 other vehicles.

"I've never been so cold in my life," Mrs. Vireno said, still shivering at the memory.

The anticlimax to the whole day occurred when the battery went dead when finally the way was cleared for the stranded cars.

Mrs. Vireno said that she and her husband, who is on crutches, hunched a ride to Colfax where they accidentally met some friends who drove them back to Daly City.

Meanwhile Dr. and Mrs. Vireno arrived home before the senior Virenos who finally returned from their exhausting weekend at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning.

City Official Dinner Planned For May 12

A get-acquainted dinner for city officials is being planned for May 12 at the Southern restaurant, according to City Manager Howard Stites. In attendance will be the council, department heads and commission members.

The purpose of the dinner is to acquaint city departments and commissions with each other, Stites said.

"If these persons can sit around a table and discuss each other's problems, greater unity of government can be achieved. There is too much tendency for separate city agencies to think only of their own problems," Stites explained.

ed, Sorenson declined to answer. "We are working hard with local police on the problem," he said. Commenting on Petrocchi's plan to pull out phones on "suspicion," Sorenson said, "Anything we follow up you can be sure it'll be more than just suspicion. I'd say we might not have enough evidence to prosecute in court but we'll be sure there is some illegal operation if we take out any phones." Reports of widespread bookmaking here prompted immediate denial from Mayor Joseph Verducci and the police commission. "I go along with the chief on this," said Verducci. "He feels there's very little activity in this area. Things like that can't operate without a lot of people knowing about it. We (the council) would have heard about bookmaking if it was that big." He avowed that, "Even though it's a rumor, we can't let it ride. If there is any bookie activity we want it stopped immediately." Verducci said he met with City Manager Howard Sutes and Petrocchi three hours Friday on the alleged bookie problem and had determined the bookmaking operations to be only slight. Stites, in a formal statement to the press, said, "The council expects me to see that the law is enforced in Daly City, and it is my intention to do whatever is necessary to see that the law is enforced, and I am sure that we have the facilities to take care of this."

Back Manager's Comment
Police commissioners Ed Whitney and Tony Ricci said at their meeting Tuesday night, "We endorse wholeheartedly the city manager's statement. "From all information available to us we feel there is no heavy bookie activity," the two commissioners said. "We think Petrocchi's doing a wonderful job and there's no sense to these rumors."

Local church and school officials generally said they had heard little of the alleged bookmaking activities. "Father Norman Allen, Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church pastor, said, "I haven't seen any evidence of this. If morality is involved, then it's a problem for the church, but I haven't detected any evidence of widespread bookmaking. I don't believe it's anything to be alarmed about at present."

Weibel Statement
H. Z. Weibel, Jefferson Elementary School district superintendent, declared, "I haven't heard too much about it. "If there is any such illegal activity, we as educators would naturally like to see it eliminated. Anything illegal is a detriment to the morals of the school children," Weibel maintained. The Rev. Thomas Whelpley, Grace Presbyterian church pastor, also indicated he had heard little of such bookmaking. He held, however, that if there were illegal bookmaking activity, it

National Coin Collectors Week

The American Numismatic Association (coin collectors to you) is sponsoring coin collectors week through their members from April 23 to 29 inclusive. A. G. K. Jakobson, of Daly City, is chairman for the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society of San Francisco.

Through the courtesy of Joe Firpo, of the Daly City Branch of the Bank of America, Mr. Jakobson, a coin collector, will have on display in the bank a collection of Early United States cents, half dollars and a type gold set from 1849 to the discontinuance of gold coins. All these in two tone plastic holders. Mr. Jakobson says that as of February 11, 1954, the U. S. Treasury Department sent out a bulletin to all Federal Reserve Banks to notify all banks that depositors of gold coins may first contact a coin collector to determine if they have a special collector's value. If so, they sell to a collector at a premium instead of turning into the bank at face value.

Police arrested a local teamster yesterday (Thursday) morning on charges of disturbing the peace and non support.

Charge Teamster With Non-Support

Officers were called to 772 Templeton avenue by Mrs. Ralph Ciarlanti, who said that her husband, had just returned after having been gone a week. She told officers that Ciarlanti was drunk upon his return and continued drinking from a half-pint bottle after entering the house.

Ciarlanti continued cursing and swearing in front of his wife and small daughter for about an hour after police arrived, they said.

The teamster pleaded not guilty to the two charges in Municipal court yesterday. Judge Thomas L. Bocci set bail at $50 on the first charge and $100 on the second. Ciarlanti was given five days of grace in which to raise the money.

Trial is set for next Tuesday.

Stites Says He'll Concentrate First On Three Phrases

City Manager Howard Stites told the city council Monday night that he expects to concentrate on three phrases of city government here. The items named by Stites were budgetary control, purchasing and license systems.

The new manager explained that changes in the three things would bring about a more organized policy for the city. Stites also recommended that an engineering department be established to take care of such problems as location of storm drains and other small things. He advised also that there should be a place established here in the city where records could be available for Daly City residents to see. Now persons interested in viewing certain documents must go to county offices.

Local Couple Arrested On Drunk Counts Here

A Daly City couple were arrested Sunday on drunk charges after their car allegedly had a near accident at Knowles and Mission street. The wife, Dorothy Puntenev, 38, 31 Gambetta avenue, was charged with drunk driving. Her husband, Norris B. Puntenev, 33, was charged with being drunk in and about an automobile. Mrs. Puntenev, who flunked a sobriety test according to police, was released on $250 cash bail. Her husband was released on $25 cash. Both are scheduled to appear Tuesday at 10 a.m. before Judge Thomas L. Bocci in Municipal court.

cally with delivery in nearby cities the next morning, Murphy said.

This stupendous task, plus fast efficient service with courtesy could only have been accomplished by such an excellent staff as we have working in all the stations of the Daly City post office," Postmaster Murphy said. was largely the fault of the community. "Many of the citizens don't seem to take much interest in their community—there seems to be something missing. If the citizen is interested in good law enforcement and becomes aroused when his community is threatened you won't see this type of thing," he said. At the present, however, his opinion was that the bookmaking situation here was "not serious."

TODAY'S meditation

Read I John 4:7-12
He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love. (I John 4:8.)
In the National Gallery of England is a wonderful picture in which Christ hangs on the cross in the midst of darkness. As one keeps looking at the painting, gradually he discovers another form in the background—God form; other hands supporting Christ—God's hands; and another face—God's face, more full of agony even than the artist has pictured the face of Christ Himself. In His infinite love, God stands by the well-beloved Son in the midst of unthinkable tragedy.
Today God stands by us, caring for us, loving us, suffering with us and for us. We ought never to think of Him as far from us leaving us to stagger on alone in the dark. He is always near, nearest when he needs Him most. Whatever else we may doubt, never let us doubt the love of God; for God is love, and we are the subjects of His love. All the resources of infinite wisdom and power are at His command for our redemption and blessing. God is with us, His love enfolds us. Our victory through Him is sure, if only we believe.
PRAYER
O Thou whose name is love, whose heart is ever longing to lift us into loving fellowship with Thee, forgive our careless, sinful indifference to Thee. Put within us the true spirit of penitence. Teach us how to know Thee as we may love and serve Thee as we ought. In His name. Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
The eternal God is our Father.

Argus Of Colma School

Next week is American Education Week, and Argus joins with all the students of Colma School, in inviting the parents and other members of the community to visit us. We want them to talk with members of the faculty and get to know them as friends. We want them to be able to share our pride in the beautiful new buildings which have been constructed for us. We feel sure that they will be amazed at the rapid strides which the pupils have made this year. And we know you will share our sentiments that an even finer Colma will evolve from this splendid start.

The Ballet of The Bees

By Nicola Whitney, Room 22, Teacher—Mrs. Gloria Schaeffer
One summer day something wonderful happened. A small green pointed crown of leaves could be seen pushing its way up through the moist, dark earth. It was to be a lily.
It grew daily and soon reached a slender height of four feet. Meanwhile, other lilies could be seen pushing up around the first. Soon there was a lovely, waving field of lilies.
One day the first lily felt something pushing through the end of its stalk. It was a bud! Each day it grew and by the end of a week there was a white, oblong bud at the tip of the stalk. Then it started to open. Day by day the white petals slowly unfurled in all their beauty and splendor.
The other lilies were opening now and the breeze became scented with their fragrance.
Then came the bees. The humming of their little wings was like a hundred tiny violins playing a wonderful, miniature symphony. How busily their tiny bodies whizzed over the field of lilies. Their daily flight was like a ballet, a Ballet of Bees.
Now it was nearing Autumn and the petals of the lilies began to drop. Cool breezes swept over the field, but when Autumn came, the rattle of their seeds could be heard falling in applause for the Ballet of the Bees.

Water I Like

By Bonnylin Adams, Room 21, Teacher—Mr. Kenneth Ryan
The dripping faucets marching song,
Winter rain wet and long,
The tuneless stream's merry pace,
Quiet tears down baby's face,
The squishing sound of muddy ooze,
A daily bath and comfy snooze,
The booming of the waterfall.
An ice cream soda best of all.

UNESCO. Do you know or do you ever wonder just exactly what the letters of that word stand for? I do—or did wonder, until I asked Mr. Hough. UNESCO stands for "United Nations Educational Science Cultural Organization."

And I also found out that the fourth annual young UNESCO conference is going to be held soon at the Terra Linda school. The exact date is April 22, and the time is from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Two teachers and five students from Colma school have been invited to attend. The teachers are Mrs. Trusculli and Mr. Hough. The students, as of this writing, have not been chosen yet.

MACKLIN MUTTONS. April 13 was Miss Doris Dueckers birthday (she didn't say how many times she had them before), and can any of you students think of a nicer way for a teacher to celebrate her birthday than to give a party, cake with ice cream included, to the lucky kids in her class? I can't.

What did the Easter vacation do for or to you? Did it give you that much-needed rest, or did it give you a chance to take off on a short-short vacation? Or did it do to you what it seems to have done to most of us? Bore us sick or put us in for nine days of misery? Anyhow, I'll bet you made a lot of good resolutions. Not to change the subject, but a good memory game is to try and remember half the resolutions you made at Easter, on the New Year, or whenever you make resolutions—about two weeks after they are made. You'd be surprised how hard that "breeze" can be sometimes.

WITH THE STARS. This quarter at Colma we are having an honor roll. The teachers have decided on the following grade points for each grade:
A—3 points. B—2 points. C—1 point. D or F will disqualify you from the honor roll.
Each student in the 7th and 8th grade is figuring out their average grade points. To be on the honor roll you can rate no lower than 1.76. Three is the highest possible average.

WANT TO ARGUE? Do you like the present system of grading? Well some pupils of Colma, namely Dona Phelps, Johanne Eckert, Graciela Garrone, Ellen Chun-Fat, Barbara Heffern and Robert Rector are going to do a debate on the subject. There are many people who believe that the system should be changed.
Your Argus reporter asked five Colma teachers and got the following opinions: Mrs. Marian Trusculli and Mrs. Dean Harkness think that it shouldn't be changed; Mr. Ed Edwards and Mrs. Helen Mueller believe it should be changed as does Mr. Charles Solley.
Mrs. Helen Muller says it would be nice to have a parent-teacher conference. Who do you want to win?

ARGUS OF COLMA SCHOOL WANTS TO THANK the many people who have written us expressing interest in our column. Like the entire Colma school we are striving to make a good beginning. What many people don't realize is that the two journalism classes each meet only twice a week, and for 40-minute periods at that, hence we are always pressed, for time. We especially want to thank the gentleman in Arabia, one Sergei Tesaran; an employee of the American Arabian Oil Company, who wrote his congratulations to Roberta Masliakoff. Mr. Tesaran said that when many of the Argus reporters grew up, they may prove worthy of becoming editors of newspapers. He feels the training we are getting in producing the pages of Argus, to be most stimulating.

TIP TO THE SEALS BASEBALL SCOUTS. Manager Heath is advised to keep a watchful eye on quiet, modest Anthony Guillery. Last year, with the lowly Raiders, Anthony smashed four grand slam home runs. Down at Brisbane one of his hits poled 285 feet, which is mighty good for a school boy—if you ask us. And the hit was made off the very good Carlson of Brisbane.

DID YOU KNOW THAT DENNIS PARSONS' DAD was personally honored with a pair of $15 tickets by Bobo Olson, to see his fight with Joey Maxim. Bobo is a great champ in more respects than one.

CONDOLENCES TO Elen Chun Fat on her leg injury and to Mr. Ed Edwards for the condition which forced him to have his tonsils removed. We understand Mr. Edwards will return next Monday; a fact which will make his pupils leap for joy.

Ridgley Cummings Reports

CRITIC ON WHEELS

When I was in Detroit a few years ago, helping to make an experimental movie at Cranbrook Art School, I met a writer named Dave Bachrach who had a favorite slogan which he repeated until it became part of my consciousness too.

Dave's slogan was, "Function determines character."

With this insight he should have gone on to do big things but the fact remains that I haven't heard of Dave in four years. Last time I saw him I was leaving town to make a trip through the Great Lakes as a deckhand on an ore boat. He was bound for Paris, where perhaps he is still busy writing lasting literature that hasn't yet come my way.

Now I am driving a taxi over the freeways and boulevards of Greater Los Angeles and I keep remembering Dave's dictum. Function determines character and since my function is transporting passengers for hire, I suppose my character will soon assume certain undesirable commercial lineaments.

Get Around More

Which leads me to the point in hand, that, like writers, cab drivers as a breed are no exception to the rule, though they do get around more than most people. And at least one of them (not counting me) is a reader of unusual books.

The other sunny afternoon toward the end of my nine hour shift I was sitting in my cab on Stand 444 in the Silver Lake District. Mine seemed to be the only cab in the area and I had been pretty busy, carrying shoppers from the markets to their homes up in the hills and from the hills down to the bus line.

The phone rang, an order to pick up a woman at an address on one of the tortuous little streets that overlook the city reservoir. I brought her down to the bus stop, where she wanted to go, and then pulled back on the stand. There I found another cab ahead of me, with the driver sitting in the back seat of his cab reading.

I parked second up and went over to say hello. The driver was a slender, dark-haired chap of thirty or thirty-five. He was wearing steel-rimmed glasses which gave his face a bony, arid look.

He wasn't glad to see me, which was understandable for I represented competition. There are a limited number of people who can afford to ride cabs and my presence cut in half his potential income from that district.

Gregarious By Nature

He was an intelligent looking chap and possibly gregarious by nature. But he made it plain that during working hours he would rather enjoy the company of someone other than a rival cab driver, preferably a lucrative passenger.

It was another case of function determining character traits.

To put him at ease I remarked that I was due in the garage soon, which was true, and that I didn't care if I got any more orders that day or not, which was definitely a fib for I hadn't made my book yet and needed a few more fares.

His competitive instincts somewhat allayed, the driver handed me the book he was reading and began praising it. The title was "The Ecstasy of Owen Muir."

scribed to it out of my first check from them but they still owe me for an article and if they don't pay up before my sub expires I won't renew. In the magazine, under the title of "Odd Man Out in the Garrison State," Lardner's novel was reviewed, quite favorably, by Matthew Josephson.

In the few minutes I had skimmed through the book I hadn't read enough to form an opinion but Josephson hailed it as a fine satire, an American "Candide" or "Don Quixote." Only thing that got me about Josephson's review was a certain schizophrenic approach. He seemed to contradict himself.

One of Josephson's concluding sentences went: "Nevertheless, the Ecstasy of Owen Muir is the work of a writer of intelligence and talent who prods vigorously at many of our most Sacred Cows."

Another sentence read: "Subsequently his novel, The Ecstasy of Owen Muir, though essentially good-humored and respectful in its treatment of our social institutions, was rejected by our leading publishers."

Prods Sacred Cows

I wondered as I read this Frontier essay, could a writer prod vigorously at our Sacred Cows and still treat them with good-humored respect?

The answer came in a recent issue of the Saturday Review. For, despite the cab driver's statement that there was a conspiracy of silence on Lardner's book, this influential literary weekly also examined it critically. The difference in approach was indicated in the title of the review, "One Man's Bungles." Here the reviewer, named Edmund Fuller, said of the book that, "It is militantly anti-business, anti-church, and in general sour on our society."

That is okay with me. Our society is far from perfect and needs criticism, plenty of it. But there was one sentence in the Saturday Review estimate of Lardner's book which reminded me of the "function determines character" axiom.

It was: "The special flavor of this book relates to the fact that the only institution not castigated is the Communist Party."

"His Own Business"

Ring Lardner Junior's political opinions are his own business. He went to jail rather than answer questions about them. He came out, after nine months in the Federal pen, to find his motion picture contract cancelled. It was a big price to pay for invoking his constitutional rights.

I'll have to read the book care-

BLIND YOUNGSTERS TUMBLING ACT SET FOR SEALS STADIUM

Boys ranging in age from 8 to 13 from the California School for the Blind will present a tumbling act at Seals' Stadium on Saturday. They will perform at 1:45 before the game. The school, located in Berkeley, has both totally blind and partially sighted pupils. It makes little difference as far as tumbling is concerned.

The names of the boys performing Saturday are Ruben Gomez, Tom Reynolds, Elwin Kelsey, Harvey Loffer, Jerry Beaman, Stephen Nanamura, Louis Martin, Kenneth Wells, Austin Rains and Robert Fowler. They come from all parts of California and live at the School for the Blind for nine months of the year.

The athletic program of the School for the Blind is under the direction of Dr. Charles Buell. He has written several pamphlets and a book on the subject of athletics for the blind. He has also produced a color motion picture on physical education of blind children. He believes it is better for the blind to have a few bumps and bruises than stay away from inaction. Certainly the boys that he guides are fine examples of this philosophy. They are just ordinary kids with very bad sight.

Jobs Whist Today

LaVerne Gardner, senior prince of Bethel No. 198, International Order of Jobs Daughters, is having a whist today (Friday) at 17 Hillcrest drive, starting at 8 p.m.

Tickets, 50 cents, can be bought at the door.

There will be prizes given away and refreshments will be served.

fully to be sure, but at this point I have the feeling that Lardner is another example of the truth of my friend Dave's dictum, that what you do determines what you are. And certainly what happens to a writer goes a long way towards determining how he writes and what he writes about.

The next time you're in L.A. and see a cab driver sitting by a phone reading a book, take a good look. If the book has "Ecstasy" in the title, the driver may be me. I'll be trying to find out if Lardner's unpleasant experiences in behalf of his convictions have soured him on our society or if he is merely examining the system with good-humored respect.

THE RECORD SPORTS

REC SOFTBALL FRIZZLES; KIDS WANT HARBALL

Recreation department officials were wondering if they had the wrong date, time and place Saturday morning at Marchbanks park when they arrived for opening of the 1955 Softball league.

Expecting nearly 100 kids would be on hand for the curtain raiser of six "A" and "B" division softball contests, the officials were greeted with a meager turnout of 20 players.

The reason: "The kids just don't like softball," said Jim Mason, recreation director.

Only solution, according to Mason, is to revamp the league into a hardball circuit.

"We'll start a week from Saturday if we can get the hardballs. Otherwise we just won't have a league," Mason said glumly.

GOLDEN GLOVES CHAMP TKO'D IN OLPH BOUTS

By Frances Kavanaugh

A novice Golden Gloves champ challenged a senior titleholder last Thursday night in Daly City and was TKO'd in the first round.

Richard Fessenden of Richmond, 178 pound novice champion, had little opportunity to show his talents. His opponent, Chick Howell of San Francisco, had a four inch reach advantage and used it to blast him with jolting left jabs and wide arcing rights. Howell picked his openings and slammed and, when Fessenden hit the canvas after a minute and a half, Referee John Lotsey ended the match.

The fight was the main event of a seven-bout amateur card sponsored by the Men's Club of the Lady of Perpetual Help church under auspices of the California State Athletic Commission in the War Memorial Community Center Building.

The judges were Jack O'Brien and Joe Ray. Scotty Butterworth was announcer, Frank Ingersoll timekeeper and Dr. Don Laftreto and Dr. Robert Durand physicians.

OLPH committee members are Richard Liberty, Bud Lyett, Walt Gillies and Bob Lynch.

HOTSPURS TAKE OVER BROADMOOR SOCCER

Broadmoor Hotspurs moved into first place in Broadmoor Soccer league action last Tuesday by downing Seven Fours, 1-0.

A pass from Bill Hix to George Mueller late in the second half resulted in the winning goal for the Hotspurs in the third round of the soccer tourney.

Thursday's play found Seven Fours regaining the win column with a 1-0 triumph over Mercury. Cornell Holmes tallied in the first half for Seven Fours and then the Seven Fours defense handled the situation in remainder of the game.

The fourth round of play is being held this week. Games will be rescheduled since Mercury and Broadmoor Sons combined into one team, under the name Mercury.

Jeff Protest Hits Wrong Channel

If we were in Jefferson Hi Baseball Coach Lou Martin's spot we'd enter a protest on a protest.

Martin filed an official complaint with PAL commissioner Don Bogie on outcome of the Indians 2-1 loss to Capuchino April 1. Martin claimed Umpire Paul Thiebaut pulled a boo-boo, calling a swinging strike a walk.

Bogie said he'd consider the protest and make his decision after consulting with the duly certified big-wigs.

So Bogie, only a layman as far as baseball is concerned, looked up Bill Aree, who is head of the North PAL coaches, a revolving position held for one season. Next he talked with the head of the umpires association. Bogie, in all sincerity, went to the people who were best in a position to comment on technicalities of league rulings.

The only hitch is that Aree is the Capuchino coach, and the head of the umpires group is none other than Thiebaut.

Now what do you suppose their recommendation was?

Pros Make Tracks Out Of DC

The DC recreation department's classy Adult Basketball league, which features players (Frank Kudelka, Tom Meschery, Fred LaCour, Rudy Zanini et al) who could make any college team in the country and a few pro clubs to boot, has lost a few of its outstanding performers.

Snooping around THE RECORD office last week was Joe Tracey, registration chairman in this area for the A.A.U.

Joe said some amateur athletes were endangering their status by competing in the DC Adult League, which had some untouchable pros in its midst. This, said Joe, is very bad what with the Olympics coming up next year. Tracey said he would warn the players first, then lower the boom.

We noticed that three players, gentlemen who have parlayed their athletic ability for cash at one or another occasion in the past, were conspicuously absent from the community center's floors this week.

An Innovation For Young Fishermen

Daly City kids will get to take advantage of an expanded program of fishing at nearby Lake Merced when the trout season opens at 5 a.m. next Saturday.

Boys and girls between 7 and 14 years will have exclusive fishing rights from a modern steel 190-foot pontoon pier in the northwest corner of the south lake.

Lifeguards are on duty daily from 6 a.m. until 5 p.m. and further protection is offered by a three-foot mesh wire fence which runs around the pier.

There is no charge for children to take part in this fishing program, and adults are strictly off limits on the pier.

For the older anglers, a new fishing spot has been developed on a 325-foot bank on the south shore of the north lake. This section has long been tabbed as one of the hottest spots on the north lake and the off-shore fishermen will get a good chance at the fish.

V & F WIN 2nd HALF PIN PLAY

Vince & Fred's wound up the Daly City-Colma Bowling league at Brentwood Tuesday night in an auspicious manner, whacking Central Club three straight games to claim the second half title.

The V & F club finished with 31 wins, 14 losses, edging out Thur Mead, 28-17.

The champs team is made up of Babe De Luca, E. Ebinger, L. Selmi, T. Santos and Vince Merlo.

Santos had high series for his club, 549, while close behind were Selmi, 538, and De Luca, 531. DeLuca had three consecutive games of 177.

Vince & Fred will face Daly City Eagles first half winners, next Tuesday for the overall championship.

High individual series Tuesday, 571, was rolled by Bacci Rocetta of Paul's Flowers. Runner-up was Frank Thur of Thur Mead, hitting a 569. Thur's high individual game of 224 bolstered the series.

Second high game of the night was tallied by H. Riley of 101 Club, a 221. Al Wright of Ralph's Cleaners pasted the pins for 220, third best on the evening.

Mateans Stop Jeff But Indians Still In Title Race; Face South City Today

Jefferson High school's varsity baseball club will attempt to pick up the pieces today (Friday) and boost their faltering PAL record when they meet South San Francisco at the Warrior diamond.

The Indians, with an enviable 14-4 practice game mark, suffered their second league loss in three starts Friday as they were turned back by championship contender San Mateo, 4-1.

Coach Lou Martin's words of last week that "We'll beat them if we can maintain our hitting," rang true. The Indians didn't hit up to par, getting only four singles, while their pitching ace Lowell Creighton had his worst day on the mound, giving up 11 safeties.

Five of the Bearcat hits came in the second inning and drove in all four of the Mateans runs.

The Indians hitting style was cramped by illness, as John Murphy, catcher, Rich Guisti, outfielder, and Bob Bailey, first baseman, had just returned from the sickbed. Murphy will not see action today, Martin said, and Guisti is doubtful as a starter.

The Jeffs tallied their only run in the third inning when Al Figone singled, bringing in Bob Grubb, who had walked.

Creighton was not wild Friday, as he allowed no walks, but he was missing the mark just enough to give the strong San Mateo batting lineup a good whack at the ball. Creighton registered only six strikeouts, well below his average.

News that boosted morale at Jefferson High school baseball camp 100 per cent came Tuesday as lowly Carlmont High defeated South San Francisco, 3-2, throwing the PAL championship race into a free-for-all.

Jefferson's chances had been held slim, dropping two of their first three games, but the Indians are only one game off the pace now, since San Mateo, tabbed as top title prospects, and South San Francisco, heretofore undefeated, each have one loss.

Tuesday's upset gives the Daly City team a better-than-even chance to move into at least a tie for first, since they play South San Francisco twice and San Mateo one more time.

OLPH Juniors Open CYO Play Tomorrow

OLPH Juniors open Catholic Youth Organization league play tomorrow (Saturday) against Holy Angels, starting at 10 a.m. at Jefferson High school diamond.

The Juniors go into the game with 11 practice wins and no losses.

The OLPH nine will be without services of regulars Dick Reese, pitcher, and Richard Morales, shortstop, who were declared ineligible because they live out of the church district.

Bill Whalen is scheduled to pitch tomorrow while Jeff Pearlman will catch.

The CYO league, western division, reputed one of the toughest, will be made up of six teams playing single round robin. Division winner competes in playoffs with other area champs.

Coaching the OLPH Juniors are Lowell Creighton Sr. and Harry Krohn.

because of rain. Martin says today's game may also be cancelled because of a wet field at South City.

The Indians have an opportunity to get back at Capuchino next Tuesday in a home game. The Mustangs topped Jeff, 2-1, in the league opener.

Martin protested the outcome but his protest was not allowed, according to announcement made this week by PAL Commissioner Don Bogie.

Despite their unimpressive 1-2 PAL mark, tutor Martin feels the Indians still have a chance at the title. "Right now it looks like San Mateo will go all the way, but we can still finish second and get it the playoffs," he speculated.

Frosh Soph Rally To Nip Vikings

Jefferson High school frosh-soph baseball club added another PAL victory to an already highly successful season last Thursday as they edged Palo Alto, 4-3, after going scoreless for six innings.

Entering the seventh inning the Indians trailed, 1-0. Jerry Ryan started the rally with a double, after the Jeffs had two outs against them.

Leroy Franzola stepped up and smashed a triple to bring in the tying run. Ino Patron kept things alive with a single, scoring Franzola. Pitcher Ed Leveroni then feathered his own nest with a home run, pushing the Jeffs' advantage to 4-1. Next man up made the third out.

Palo Alto threatened to get back in the game in their half of the seventh as, with one man on, the second batter homered, to whittle the Indians lead to 4-3.

Leveroni again proved himself a clutch performer, as he struck out the next two batters. In all, he had 11 strikeouts, gave up five hits and allowed no walks.

It was the ninth win for Leveroni and gave the Daly City yearlings a 4-0 league mark and 11 straight victories against no losses. Coach Byron Van Alstyne's crew have now compiled the best record in frosh-soph history at Jeff.

The Indians garnered five hits, four of them coming in the final frame.

JEFF Bs FIFTH AT RELAYS

Blanked in the varsity division, Jefferson High school cindermen placed three lightweight teams at the El Cerrito relays Saturday to finish in fifth place.

Coach Ernie Ribera's 30s representatives claimed thirds in the 440 and 880-yard relays and fourth in the mile.

Making up the 440 team were Mike Piazza, Sonny Martinez, Rogue Domingo and Lowell Klaisner, who moved down from the varsity.

Piazza, Steve Mack, Dan Miceli and Klaisner toured the 880 relay, while Klaisner, Martinez, Miceli and Mack went the mile route.

The 30s three places gave them 10 points and fifth place in their division.

The varsity distance medley entry managed a fifth but only four places were good for points in the El Cerrito meet.

The Jeff field entrants, George Seger and Mike Cloonan got off good discus heaves of 126 and 121 feet, respectively, but failed to place as the competition was a little too classy.

Ribera may have a strong contender in the discus relays at Martinez Saturday with Seger, Clonan, Don Wiesner, 105, and Jim Farley, 115, in the quartet.

The Jeffs will also enter a distance medley team Saturday made up of Klaisner, 440, Rich Gonzales, 880, Rich Fambrini, 1320, and Jim Rector, mile.

The Indians spikemen were scheduled to meet South San Francisco in a dual meet yesterday, weather permitting.

Next week marks the PAL trials, which will be held Tuesday through Friday at Capuchino.

Eaglettes Annex 720 Scratch League

Finishing with 52½ wins, 31½ losses, Daly City Eaglettes annexed the 720 Scratch league at Brentwood bowling alley.

The local team, sponsored by

THE BROTHERS SHARPE, Mike (left) and Ben, world tag team champions, pose with their trophy which will be on display Monday night when the brothers tangle with Rocky Brown and Vic Christy at Daly City community center in the second wrestling card promoted by Holy Name society of Holy Angels church in Colma. their awesome championship trophy, the Brown-Christy duo are expected to give them a real 'rassle for their money. Two other matches Monday include Ramon Torres facing Gene Dubuque and Baron Gattoni climbing into the ring with Mr. America Stanlee. Daly City Eagles Auxiliary, was made up of Donna Almqvist, captain, Britta Morris, Agnes Malz, Mildred Kalinin and Alberta Diebel.

Mesdames Almqvist, Morris, Malz and Kalinin all had games of more than 200 during the season and were presented with pins from Brentwood.

The Eaglettes opened 28 weeks ago one place from the bottom and wound up two games in front of the second place team, Ted and Archie's.

The Eaglettes were honored Saturday evening at a banquet in South San Francisco. Trophies were presented to each of the women and the sponsor trophy was accepted on behalf of the Auxiliary by Jean Blankenhorn, junior past madam president.
